Advancing organic agriculture for a healthy world.

2019 CCOF Foundation Giving Opportunities

With your support, the CCOF Foundation invests in the education of new organic farmers and producers, helps consumers understand the benefits of organic, assists organic farmers in need, and provides ongoing training for organic professionals.

The Future Organic Farmer Grant Fund

The Future Organic Farmer Grant Fund is rising to the challenge of educating the new and beginning organic farmers our nation needs to keep our agricultural communities thriving. Through the fund, the CCOF Foundation collaborates with organic businesses and community leaders to provide grants for kindergarten through eighth grade teachers, high school students, and vocational and higher education students. Meet the new organic leaders we've funded at www.ccof.org/future-organic-farmers.

Roadmap to an Organic California

The Roadmap to an Organic California is a forward-thinking research project that presents organic agriculture as an evidence-based approach to improving the health and prosperity of California and creates a public policy roadmap to increase organic farmland in California from 4 percent to 10 percent by 2030.

The Organic Training Institute

The CCOF Foundation brings cutting-edge research and creative business solutions to current and prospective certified organic producers, processors, and handlers through a series of free or low-cost field days, workshops, and webinars to help them improve and grow their operations.

The Bricmont Hardship Assistance Fund

In the spirit of community support that inspired the founding of CCOF, the Bricmont Hardship Assistance Fund is a helping hand for organic farmers in need. It is the only fund in the nation that provides direct financial assistance exclusively to organic producers, processors, and handlers who suffer losses due to extreme hardship.

Consumer Education

The CCOF Foundation's "Why Buy Certified Organic?" campaign helps consumers make healthy food choices for their families, while also giving organic professionals a tool to help grow their businesses. Our educational cards are distributed by organic farmers and processors at farmers' markets, in CSA boxes, and in grocery stores to inform consumers about the meaning of different food labels and seals.
